

The Department of Marketing is dedicated to:

- Creating knowledge through cutting-edge research that enhances the understanding of marketing and consumer behavior and provides benefits to consumers, business, and public policy
- Sharing knowledge by providing students with the highest quality marketing education through a nurturing environment of hands-on learning